FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2018 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Analysis

AS 12.30.006(b) is amended to allow anyone charged with a felony be detained up to 48 hours before releasing. This could potentially increase the daily population by approximately 0-12 persons per day for those held beyond the current 24 hours.

AS 12.30.011(b) and (c) are amended eliminating the mandatory release of persons charged with a misdemeanor or C Felony who are assessed as low or moderate risk and allows the Courts discretion if they find that the release of the person will not reasonable ensure the appearance in court and the safety of the victim, other persons and the community. This could potentially increase the daily incarcerated population by approximately 0-13 persons per day.

Potential impacts of these amendments to the Department of Corrections could range anywhere from zero to 25 persons per day and could be absorbed within existing resources; however, if the monthly average inmate population count exceeds the general capacity of 4,644 inmates, additional resources will be needed.

The Department will monitor for fiscal impacts of this legislation if passed.
